Helpful suggestions for the International:

- If you have any questions, give one of us a call. We'll be glad to help.
- Please see Lyngle early Tuesday afternoon with a check for your classes so she can pick up your packet at the show office.
- Let Charlie know what classes you are interested in as soon as you know. Show management has asked that make entries 5 classes ahead. The cut-off for entering or scratching is 5 classes ahead also.
- Grand Championship entries need to be made by noon Saturday.
- Completing a preliminary class qualifies you for a championship. Placing in the top 5 qualifies you for the open Grand Championship classes.
- Adding or scratching a class can be done by Lyngle from her phone. Julie, Leah, and Vivian will be taking care of their entries.
- Under certain conditions, Ladies and Men's classes may qualify for a Grand Championship.

At the Kentucky Horse Park, we will have three "tack stalls". The large wooden one will have a couple of tables. One will be mostly for food and the other for things we'll need in a dressing room. The shoes, hats, tie box, and large rod will be there for hanging clothes. In the stall to the right (it is a regular horse stall), we'll have an additional area for clothing, costumes, and anything that needs to over flow from the main "dressing room" area. We'll have a table in there as well as rugs to keep things clean (well as clean as we can, anyway). Leah is bringing some fabric to help it be more like an actual dressing area if things get crowded. Down the row of stalls, will be the actual stall where the tack is kept. In addition, after the weanling and yearling return home, their stalls will be a good place to store hay, brooms, shovels, and muck buckets. We have a plan for our backdrop, ribbons, and banners. It's going to be great!!

Meal Plans

AKA. . . "Who's Feeding Charlie?"

It makes things easier at the Horse Park if we all bring a little something throughout the week. It all looks yummy!

Tuesday: Lyngle - Jimmy John's subs, chips, cookies

Wednesday: Brenda (hope she brings lemon cake)

Thursday: Karen & Jeff - BBQ, Potato Salad, Cole Slaw, cake

Friday: Julie T - Sloppy Joes / Hot dogs

Saturday: Ann - Chic-fil-A

Anyone that wants to bring treats, water, Ale8, Gatorade or help bring ice and drinks during the week, that would be great! I go by a Walmart on my way so I can help too.

Prayers Please

Please continue your prayers for Seth Jackson who was severely injured in a motorcycle accident a couple of weeks ago. He had several broken bones and was air-lifted to UK from Prestonsburg. Fortunately, he is home recovering. Get well soon, Seth.

We'll be moving into the Kentucky Horse Park on Tuesday, Sept. 1. SRF will have sixteen (including TJ's momma) horses that will be heading out to the KHP. Let's pray for traveling mercies and that horses and people alike, will be healthy and strong throughout the show and during their travels to and from home.

Special prayers go out for all exhibitors and horses while competing. We pray for their safety, and we pray good sportsmanship will abound. May we all appreciate God's grace and all that he does for us through horses each and every day. Amen

Thank you!

She got to move in a few days early due to being an athlete. Her room mate from Great Britain, who is also on the track team, had arrived a few days earlier. busy girl once again.

Be sure to check out the RMHA Special Awards at rmhorse.com on the Championship page. We have always felt there is a lot of prestige in working toward these awards. Ruby will be competing for the Sara Gwisdalla Versatility Award again this year. She has won it several times in the past. Olivia has also been a recipient of this award. Several times, horses from SRF have won the Rea Swan Versatility Award which includes several classes on the rail, western, Trail obstacle, conformation, pole bending, water glass etc. Leah will be competing for the Morgan Riggs Versatility Award for the first time. Ally is ready. One of the most prestigious awards is the Sam Tuttle. All conformation classes and age division classes count as well as not being DQ in trail obstacle. All those classes count. We are excited to see which horses rise to the top of these different categories.

THE EQUESTRIAN MOUNTAIN HOUSE & FARM
COLORING BOOK

ONE HORSE FOR ALL OCCASIONS

The RMHA Publications Committee is proud to announce that the coloring book we designed to promote our Rockies is now available. It can be ordered online but your best deal will be to pick one up at Diamond A Tack Trailer on the concourse at the International Show. That way you will be able to avoid shipping charges. It is a cute book that tells about the Rocky Mountain Breed. You will even recognize a few folks that you know as you look through its pages. They will make a great gift!

White Pine, TN

Stoner Ridge Farm and crew traveled to White Pine, TN last Friday to compete in the Southeast Summer Championship Horse Show. Charlie, Ruby, and Olivia pulled the nine horse trailer, Julie and Mary Kelley pulled their living quarters, and Erin and Lyngle drove down in the car. It was great to have Erin with us this year. We were glad Ruby could make it. We school move in on Tuesday, she was a little rushed. We missed Leah this year but with school starting for her soon, she decided to concentrate on the International.

At White Pine, there was an "A" show on Saturday and a "B" show on Sunday with about every Rocky Mountain class you could imagine. Paso Fino classes were placed in between so it provided a little extra time between classes. There were several times, however, that classes were canceled so riders had to hurry. It was amazing that they showed in 58 classes over two days!

The horses did well and we came home with lots of ribbons. Many pictures were also posted on Facebook to help folks follow our journey. We appreciated the opportunity to go to this outstanding facility! Congratulations to everyone . . . Especially the championship winners - Silver's Diamond Dealer, Rocky Creek Farm's Maverick, She's Unlawful, and B & T's Slamma Jamma! We really want to thank Milda's staff. We also want to thank all who helped with food and bringing ice. Brenda outdid herself bringing ham, fruit, beans, cake etc. It was a hot weekend but we managed well. Thanks for coming Brenda & Larry as well as Jeff & Karen. So glad there weren't any flat tires this trip! Thanks again to all and congrats!
